Deut 8: 18

I want to celebrate the women here today. Going further, we need to understand the warfare of wealth. When you mention the word wealth, there is another level of warfare to wealth.

Wealth is the achievement of goals that cause one to live and flourish as human beings created as the image of God under the covering of divine good success. Religion will tell us to come out from among them, but there s a time for that. There is a time to blend in like a chameleon.

The enemy s biggest assignment against the believer is to ignite the curse of being able to see something that you can never have. This is the idea behind glass ceilings. One thing about glass is that you can see through it, but you cannot get through it. The territorial warfare of glass ceilings is that you can see through it, but you cannot get through it. One of the biggest curses a believer can have is the enemy s commitment to tricking believers by showing them things they can never have. Afflicting believers with the ability to stay from outside while looking in.

2 Kings 7:2 (KJV)

Then a lord on whose hand the king leaned answered the man of God, and said, Behold, if the Lord would make windows in heaven, might this thing be? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but shalt not eat thereof.

How do you break Glass Ceilings?

Never doubt God.

Do not do wrong things. Do not put your hand on things God does not favor.

Do not say wrong things out of your mouth. Do not through your own words create the wrong atmosphere. The wrong atmosphere will always create the wrong climate. Wrong climates create wrong strongholds.

By Believing God no matter what and at any cause.

To learn from God, you need to forget what you know or what you think you know, so that God can tell you what you need.

To break the glass ceilings, you have to believe God and believe His direction for your life in spite of what is in your face or what you can see. In other words, the present circumstances you can see, the future you can see but can't achieve are all within reach by believing God and His counsel.
